Copenhagen, 24 May 2016

Hugo Games partners with Lima Sky developing a new game

Hugo Games A/S has entered into a strategic partnership with Lima Sky, creator of the mobile game Doodle Jump, ranking among the five most downloaded premium apps of all time.

The partnership with US based Lima Sky means that Hugo Games will develop a new mobile game in an equally joint venture business model with Lima Sky. Hugo Games will create and develop the new game originating from the Doodle Jump design and Lima Sky will act as the global publisher.

The original Doodle Jump is among the most iconic mobile games as well as a strong brand on app stores with hundreds of millions of downloads since the release of the original Doodle Jump. In addition to this the original Doodle Jump currently holds an amazing top 5 ranking among the most downloaded premium titles of all time.

Lima Sky's and Hugo Games new joint mobile game is planned for release in Q1-Q2 2017, where Lima Sky and Hugo Games will work closely together on the global promotion of the game, including but not limited to cross promotion activities in the both companies existing portfolio of mobile games.

This announcement does not alter the previously announced expectations to 2016, most recently communicated in the Annual Report 2015.
