5th Planet Games announces a bulls eye with launch of Snakebite and Hugo Carts, both online casino games created in partnership with Play'n GO.

COPENHAGEN, October 21th, 2021: 5th Planet Games A/S (OAX: 5PG) today announced that the leading Swedish game producer Play'n GO has released two new online slot games made in partnership with 5th Planet Games.

In the Snakebite game players will enter the world of darts in their collaboration with world-renowned iconic darts player Peter 'Snakebite' Wright. It is a classic 5x3 slot game that mirrors the nature of the game of darts and a game of endurance with plenty of ways to win.

Play n Go has together with IP rights holder 5th Planet Games used a clever combination of visuals and audio to focus on the atmosphere of a darts tournament. Winning moves are followed by the crowd cheering and the release of fireworks; even Snakebite himself appears on the board, encouraging the player. Animating Snakebite to throw darts during Snake Spins is an innovative way to create more interactive gameplay for the player.

Peter' Snakebite' Wright is renowned for his personality, and in darts, he has a huge following and at 5th Planet Games we are excited to expand our portfolio of sports stars with this unique character and living legend still on top of his game.

Although Hugo Carts is part of a series, the new Hugo Carts game has been designed to bring something new to the table. Madcap mayhem from start to finish; Hugo must collect as much gold as he can. Joined by his lovely wife Hugolina, they enter the mine, swiftly followed by the not-so-lovely Scylla. It's a bumpy ride. Keeping their hands on the gold may not be as easy as they first thought.

A fast-paced game with a heap of features. A little different from other games in the Hugo series, the focus shifts from independent paylines to the entire grid creating a more innovative play.

The re-spin feature sees characters released in quick succession giving the impression of characters chasing each other, comparable to Mario Carts or Wacky Races. Players can even select who they play as, a nostalgic nod to the original Hugo video games.

With six games now in the series. We've seen Hugo get himself into all sorts of mischief in Hugo Football and Hugo's Adventure. Hugo Carts sees the cheeky troll return to the mines, reminiscent of the first game.
